Thursday evening the 28th & last day of Feb. it commenced raining and it froze as it fell & continued so doing that night, the next day the 1st day of March it was cloudy & rained smartly & continued freezing & in the Evening the wind began to blow & for several hours I never saw the true break, so much in my life, they have so much Ice on them, on Saturday the 2nd Mar the Ice has scarcely melted any it being a very cold day the wind is from N. W. quite clear & such a time I never saw in my life, the reflection of 222

The sun upon the ice on the trees, this 2^d day of Mar. being so clear & the ice so white on the trees my wife compares it to a Bride somewhat to state that yesterday the 1st of Mar.
it rained hailed & thundered & in the night snowed just enough to cover the ground Sunday 3^d of Mar. The ice still remains on the trees in a great measure the day not quite as cold as Saturday but as brilliant where the sun shined. Monday Morning 4th quite cold this day the ice on the trees has pretty much melted. Thursday March 28.

1833. It commenced snowing about 10 o'clock in the morning & continued snowing very hard till about night. - May 13th 1833. One of my neighbors has just informed me spirits of turpentine will clear out the lice upon Hogs. I shall try the experiment -

The same neighbor W.D. has informed me what is good for vermin on cattle viz.
- Take fresh Butter out of the Churn without any salt & put it in a vessel on the fire
- 1/4th of Sulphur to a 1st Butter melt the Sulphur take it off & let it cool & add a ~~bottle~~ spirits of turpentine & then take a small portion & put on the animals Back all the way - & the vermin will soon disappear.

It commenced snowing Thursday 26th Feb.
1835. Sunday It commenced again. Friday 6th March It snowed & Saturday the snow is 2 Lig Deep my family that is my wife & Melicia both very Sick

A & B agree to purchase a Tract of Land containing 300 Acres at $2. ^{per} Acre Each having Three Hundred Dollars, But A says to B, if you ^{will} let me have the North side of the Tract, I will allow 13¹/₆ & you may have yours on the South side at 10¹/₆ ^{per} Acre, Now I Demand What number of ~~Acres~~ ^{Acres} each man is to have, and ~~propose~~ ^{propose} it by Acres & Price —

To do this even you must suppose that each man agreeable to the Original Contract is to get 150 Acres a piece, But from the Circumstance of A's making the proposition at 13¹/₆ the Calculation is first made, & it appears that his 150 Acres at that price amounts to $337.50 leaving a deficiency On B's side of $37.50 Now to obtain that amount B must necessarily allow him (A) 13¹/₆ for 16²/₃ Acres of Land, which will make each $300. Consequently A has 133¹/₃ Acres & B has 166²/₃ Acres

Jeremiah W. Graves

Art is gained by great labour and Industry Take great care and you'll write fair,
 A covetous Man is always, as he fancies, in want,
 Add to your faith virtue, and to virtue Knowledge
 A comely Countenance is a silent commendation,
 A place of ill example may endanger a good man
 A prudent man values Contentment more than riches
 A fair piece of writing is a speaking picture
 All Gods Commandments are divinely pure
 A mans manners commonly form his Fortune
 A great liar is seldom believed though he speaks the truth
 A virtuous minded Youth, will ever love the truth
 A prudent Youth & wife, will not advice despise
 All idle lazy boys, obstruct their parents joys,
 A man by conduct may, keep misery away,
 A Girl who would excel, must mind her copy well Bounty is commendable in some, but it ruins others
 By delight & some care, we come to write fair
 By diligence and Industry we come to preferment Beauty without virtue is but a painted sepulchre
 Be wise & beware, of blotting take care
 By idleness & play Youth squanders time away
 Be wise & times; shun hearkling crimes
 Consider the shortness of ~~life~~ ^{life}, & certainly of death Competency with content is a great happiness Caution and care oft Baffle a care Contentment makes a happy without fortune Censure no Man, nor detract from any man Contention and strife make uneasy our life

229

Deride not infirmities, nor triumph over Injuries Delight in virtues Ways & then you'll merit praise Death Conquers potent Princes, & their Powers Delight in what you undertake to Learn Duty, Fear, & Love, we owe to God above
Drinking is the drowning of cares not the cure of them Death destroys, not the soul but an ill life does Do to Others as you would that they unto you should Death is less Feared by a fool than a philosopher
Every Plant & Flower, shews to us Gods Powers Example oft doth Rule the wise man & the fool Envious Men do fret, when they see others get Evil company makes the good bad & the bad worse Experience is the best looking Glass of Wisdom Even at the head & feet, be sure your letters Run Envy & care, make the body grow spare Fair words are often used to hide foul deeds Fair faces have sometimes foul Concoctions Few do good with what have gotten ill
Future events must be left to Providence Fear is a good Watchman but a bad defender Fraud in childhood will become Knavery in manhood Fortune is kind at some Hours to all Fiercely looks oft hide what the false Heart doth show Fortune & Fame create a good name Friends in adversity are not often found Fools & Knaves are not companions for honest men Frugality & Industry are the hands of Fortune

230
Godliness with Contentment is great Gain Good manners in a Lad, will make his parents Glad Great Minds & Small Means ruin many men Good Humour hath never failing Grace Gods works only are perfect in their Kind Grief nourished in your breast will never let you rest Greater profit doth always come of hearing than of play Good men are safe when wicked ones are at odds
Get what you can Honestly & use it frugally God is Omnipotent, True and almighty —

Hasty Resolutions are seldom fortunate Haste makes waste of paper Ink & time
He that stumbles & falls not mends his pace Hypocrites first cheat the world & at last themselves Human life will human frailties have Honor that is true, is lawful to ~~pursue~~ ^{pursue}
He who sends a fool of an errand ought to follow him Honors ~~are~~ ^{are} burdens and riches have rings
He who fears not an oath will not tremble at a lie Hours fly swiftly away; improve each moment of the day In praising most sparing be & blame most sparingly
